Casualty / Personal Injury Defense

Trenam's Personal Injury Group provides casualty/personal injury defense representation for businesses, corporations, individuals, public utilities and other public entities throughout Florida. From premises liability personal injury suits to negligent security matters, our attorneys provide dedicated and aggressive representation focused on results.

Our team has more than 30 years of experience in locating the best and most experienced expert witnesses in all fields and in review and analysis of medical records and issues. We locate, retain and work with accident reconstruction engineers, biomechanical engineers, economists, materials analysis experts, mental health experts, medical doctors, radiologists, engineers, architects, and other experts to assist in defense of personal injury claims and ensure that the claim against you is properly and thoroughly evaluated and defended. The attorneys in the group have experience in jury trials and alternative dispute resolution. We also handle your claims efficiently and strive to make our work for you the best investment you make in defending claims and litigation brought against you.
