Overview

Don Mastry joined the firm as a Shareholder in February 2006. He has represented business owners, professionals and executives for over 40 years in corporate, general business, zoning and real estate matters, as well as estate planning, life insurance, revocable trusts to avoid probate, wills, buy-sell agreements, and documentation and planning relative to closely held businesses. Prior to joining the firm, he was with Holland and Knight LLP.

Representative Matters

Don represents developers and landowners in zoning and permitting hearings before governmental bodies and administrative agencies. This includes acquisition of real estate for commercial, residential and mixed-use developments; negotiation of all related documents; and the preparation of project documentation, including covenants, conditions and restrictions, leases, and homeowner association and planned-unit documents.

Don practices in estate planning and probate matters, including the use of revocable and irrevocable trusts. A significant portion of his practice is related to planning for owners of closely held business interests, including the formation of entities; business succession planning; and the use of life insurance, buy-sell and other agreements for business owners and executives.
